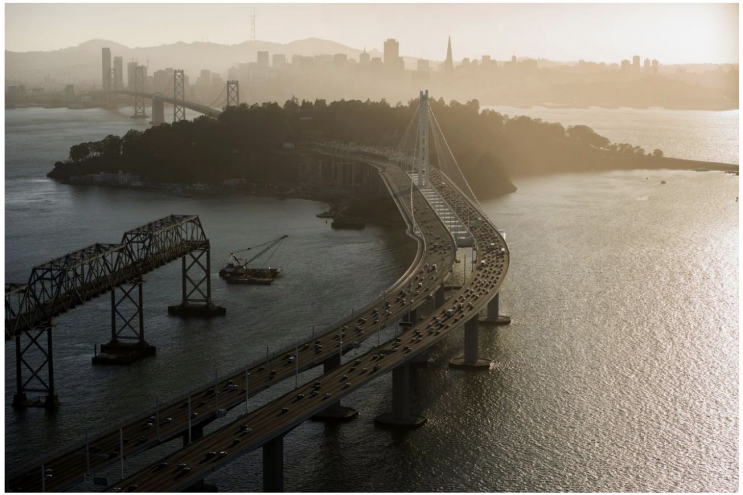
Hackers Stole $650,000 From Nonprofit and Got Away, Showing Limits to Law Enforcement's Reach

When criminals swindled One Treasure Island, the San Francisco organization turned to the cops. Getting no help, its director decided to launch her own investigation.



The San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge looms over Treasure Island, accessible via the bridge. A nonprofit involved in building affordable housing on the island was swindled out of $650,000 in an email scam.
